About Veritas Consulting

TRUSTED ADVICE, TODAY & TOMORROW

At Veritas Health and Safety Consultancy we give you an impressive range of services that will help you to manage and implement workplace safety and ensure full compliance with the latest UK health and safety laws and regulations.

We've helped many businesses to realise the benefits of good health and safety practices and to ensure they continue to operate in full compliance. Whether your business is retail, construction, office or industrial we can give you peace of mind that you are providing a safe environment for your staff and anybody else present on your premises.

How Veritas can help your business

"When a company has an effective health and safety policy in place, it's something you can sense as soon as you walk onto their premises."

Health and safety is an important consideration for any business regardless of size, sector or location. Not only do the right health and safety policies and practices evoke a sense of calm in the workplace, but they also promote productivity and efficiency, reduce your insurance premiums and reduce the risk of any legal claims being brought against your company.

Veritas Consulting can help you to massively reduce all risks and will guide you through the many health and safety obstacles that exist in the workplace. We give you professional service, the benefit of our years of experience together with a broad spectrum of services you can cherry pick so that you get the right balance of services for your business.

Act now. Reduce the risks.

If you are not 100% confident that your health and safety practices are up to scratch, now is the time to act. One call is all it takes to arrange a meeting with one of our Health and Safety consultants. Managing health and safety proactively is your responsibility, but one that we can help you with to ensure you get it right. We give you solutions, not just recommendations.

HEALTH & SAFETY AUDIT

Running a business often leaves little time to spend on health and safety considerations. This is where our health and safety audits are invaluable. We can conduct a thorough audit of your entire premises and give you a full report of our findings and recommendations.

HEALTH & SAFETY TRAINING

Training is another part of our many services. We can get you up to speed on the many aspects of health & safety. With our training you can easily identify hazards and control the risks that are present in any workplace.

WORKPLACE SAFETY

We specialise in workplace safety across all sectors. Whether your business is in construction, retail or office-based services, we can help you to ensure your health and safety provisions and policies fall in line with the current UK legislation.

Health & Safety Services

Veritas provides you with an extensive selection of health and safety services giving you the freedom to choose those that you need both immediately and in the future. Our services usually start with a health and safety audit. We offer the most comprehensive of assessments for your premises and give you peace of mind that every inch of your building has been taken into account. Unlike many consultancies we give you a thorough report showing the areas where health and safety is working well, the areas where improvements need to be made, and solutions that will ensure you operate in complete compliance with the Health & Safety at Work etc. 1974.

Proactive Risk Management

Can you remember when you last carried out a workplace assessment? Has there ever been a workplace assessment carried out? Health and safety can be a minefield and many companies put off audits as they are worried about costs or the negative impact a bad audit could have on their business operations. We say a productive and thriving company is a safe one and one that instils confidence and trust in both employees and customers. Don't risk a tarnished reputation for the sake of a few changes to your workplace procedures or policies. We can give you complete peace of mind that your health and safety house is in order leaving you free to concentrate on operations without the worry of non-compliance or staff grievances. Get in touch today to find out more about our health & safety audits and health & safety training courses.

CDM Coordinator Services

Those working in the construction industry have a role in looking after their own health and safety and in improving the construction industry's health and safety record. Our CDM Coordinator services are designed to handle total risk management of your construction project during the planning and design phases.

The main duties of a CDM Coordinator include:

- Advising and assisting the client with their duties
- Notifying HSE of project details
- Coordination of all health and safety aspects during the design phase
- Handling of all communication between the client, contractors, and designers
- Preparing and updating the health and safety file
- Liaising with contractors regarding design work

Solid CDM Experience

Veritas gives you access to registered CDM Coordinators. This ensures you get the full benefits that come with our extensive knowledge of the construction industry and Design Risk Management skills. We belong to the Association for Project Safety, have a close working relationship with the HSE and we have handled numerous construction projects. Working alongside industry professionals we provide a valuable layer of consultancy ensuring your project complies with the latest health and safety regulations.

If you would like to find out more about our CDM services and which CDM regulations apply to your project, please get in touch. We also offer 5% commission to any Designer, Architect, or Engineer who recommends Veritas Consulting. Call us today on 0800 1488 677.

Our CDM Coordinator Services

- We provide clients with the high levels of service required to administer the Construction Design and Management 2007 Regulations (CDM)
- As your CDM Coordinator, Veritas Consulting will handle the risk management factors associated with health and safety
- A CDM Coordinator will manage all health and safety aspects of the design process. We will notify the HSE (F10) of your project. And, as you may know, a CDM Coordinator must be appointed for every construction project that will last longer than 30 days, or 500 person days.

Competent Person Service

Whilst employing a full-time member of staff to deal with health and safety issues is essential for some companies, it can just be overkill for many small and medium sized firms. What we do here at Veritas Consulting is give you access to our wealth of expertise whenever you need it. This keeps your overheads down and gives you complete peace of mind.

The Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999 stipulate that all employers must appoint a competent person to offer advice on health and safety. These regulations state that it is preferable for this person to be employed directly by the employer, but more and more people are choosing to appoint an external source instead. It is a criminal offence if you fail to seek competent advice.

Packages Tailored To Your Needs

We recognise that not all businesses are created equal or have the same requirement which is why we offer a bespoke service. Whether you need assistance with scheduled workplace safety inspections or safety plans and objectives, our services can be tailored to suit your exact needs.

If you would like to find out more about how we can save you money and give you access to the best health and safety advice available, give us a call on 0800 1488 677.

Fire Safety Assessments

Did you know that it's a legal requirement to comply with the Fire Safety Order? These UK regulations have been introduced to help simplify the fire safety process. They also ensure that it is the responsibility of the business owner to arrange a fire risk assessment. At Veritas Consulting we understand how daunting it can be to arrange fire safety provisions for your premises.

When we arrange a fire risk assessment we will walk your entire premises to identify any hazards or potential hazards. We don't just leave you with a report full of jargon. We give you real cost effective solutions and the advice you need to comply with fire safety regulations.

Over the years we have carried out many fire risk assessments and would be delighted to speak to you today. Give our team a call today on 0800 1488 677.
